UNICO Announces Scholarship Awards

Six recipients have been selected to receive $150 each in scholarship grants to the colleges and schools of higher learning of their choice. They are: Gerald Cleary, John Pienkowski, Mary Ann Julian, Catherine Siano—Unico Awards; Robert Leger, Samuel Provo—Pagani Awards.

All these students are from Agawam High School. Mr. Agostino Bartolucci, Chairman of Unico Scholarship Committee, would like to congratulate all these students on behalf of all Unico members and especially his committee for the fine job they did this year in making the final selection of winners.

Visit A. H. S. Graduate Display

The townspeople of Agawam are cordially invited to visit the main foyer area of the Agawam High School to see the display depicting the future plans of the present graduating class. Included in the display are photographs of each of the graduating students.

This is an annual project of the art and guidance departments. Miss Geraldine Schilling and Mr. David Skolnick prepared the material for this very popular display.

Next Coin Club Meeting June 8

The Agawam Coin Club will hold a regular meeting June 8th, at the Agawam National Guard Armory, on Maynard St. at 7:30 p.m.

Victor Moreno, vice president will be acting president at this meeting. Select coins will be on display, followed by a good, lively auction. Bring along any coins, you might wish to show. Refreshments will be served, and the public is invited.

Center Library Summer Hours

The Agawam Center Library will be open from 9 a.m. to 12 noon only on Saturdays beginning June 4th and continuing through and including Sept. 3rd.

To Receive Bachelor of Arts Degree

MISS SANDRA E. DRZYZGA

Miss Sandra B. Drzyzga will graduate Sunday afternoon from the College of Our Lady of the Elms at the 35th annual commencement exercises in Veritas Auditorium.

Miss Drzyzga will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology with a minor in Elementary Education from his Excellency, Most Rev. Christopher J. Weldon, D.D.

While at college, Sandra was an active member of the Springfield Under-graduate Club and the Sociology Club. During her sophomore year she was on the Freshman - Sophomore Dance Committee. In her senior year she was on the Elmate yearbook staff and cochairman of the Senior Ball Weekend.

Sandra, the daughter of Mrs. William Drzyzga of Lealand Ave., Agawam, and the late William Drzyzga has accepted a teaching position in the Agawam School System.

Community Grange Program June 7

The next meeting of Community Grange will be held on June 7th in the Grange Home on North West St., Feeding Hills. The annual election of officers will be conducted during the business meeting which will begin at 8 o'clock.

During the lecturer's hour Mr.

and Mrs. Earl Bradway will show slides and talk briefly about their trip to Hawaii last November.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Burt are co-chairmen of the refreshment committee with Mrs. Beatrice Bougie and Mrs. Adena Pigion assisting them. It is hoped that all members will attend this very important meeting.

Annual YMCA Barbecue Open House June 18

The Board of Directors and Friends of the Agawam Community YMCA will hold the annual Chicken Barbecue and Open House on the YMCA grounds, 108 Perry Lane, Agawam, on Saturday, June 18, from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. All funds earned from the Barbecue will be given to the YMCA to assist the youth programs.

Chairman of the Barbecue is Nicholas Zucco, famous for his tasty barbecue sauce and delicious chicken dinners. A complete meal will be served, including beverage and dessert for adults at $1.50 and children at 99c.

Assisting with food preparation and serving are: William Bernardara, Kenneth Clouse, Leslie Moore, Jr., Santo Cannarella, Edward Schmidt, Stella Gallerani, Rita Moore, Madeline Negrucci, Marion White, Adelaide Bonacker and Elaine Taupier.

Paul Adams, Jr., chairman of Tickets has named his committee: Charles Calabrese, Anthony Nacewicz, Archie Taylor, Ruth Chandler, Jean Clifford, James Loomis, John Williams, Arthur Leary, John Chriscola, Ernest Swanson, William McLellan, Charles Benoit, Ralph Webster, James Pease, Playton George, Stella Gallerani, Fred Affleck, Santo Cannarella, Rita Moore, Jack Moltenbrey, Leonard Johnson, and Madeline Negrucci.

The entire Outdoor Center, including the excellent swimming pool, tennis courts, basketball, volley ball, horseshoes, swings,

Cleary UNICO National Candidate

The Agawam Chapter of Unico National would like to announce that for the first time since their charter as an organization of Unico National four years ago, they have selected a candidate from Agawam High School to represent them in the National Scholarship competition. The winner of this award will receive a $2,000 — 4 year — scholarship ($500 per year) to the school of higher learning of their choice.

The Agawam Chapter candidate is Gerald Cleary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cleary of 515 Mill Street, Agawam, Mass. Gerald is a 4 year honor student, member of National Honor Society, Class President for 4 years, Model Congress Member, Year Book editorial staff, Student Council and Patrol Member, President of Western Mass. Association of Student Councils, Executive Board—Mass. A.S.C. and received the Dartmouth Club award. Gerald has been accepted at Dartmouth College and will major in Pre-med.

We of Agawam Unico want to congratulate Gerald and surely hope that the National Scholarship Committee will also make our choice a reality. The results of this award will be known in early June. In any case, they will be published as soon as we receive them.

Junior Grange #105 Election Saturday

Community Junior Grange 105 will meet at the Grange Home on Saturday at 2 o'clock. Election of officers will be held for the 1966-67 season, and all members are urged to be present.

The usual donations to the various Junior Grange projects will be decided, such as: the Heiffer Project; the Home and Community Service Projects of Care and Heart; the National Project—the Greek Team; and the Educational Aid Fund.

The losers of the attendance contest with Beth Werner, captain, will treat the winners, captained by Linda Allen. Favorite games will complete the afternoon program.

This will be the last regular meeting until fall, but on June 18th a picnic will be held, probably at Arcadia Bird Sanctuary in Easthampton. A bus will be available for this trip.

Junior High Students Visit Food Mart

The Agawam Food Mart played host last week to 95 girls from the Agawam Junior High School, pupils of Mrs. Robert Sheldon, home economics teacher. Six groups of girls visited the store's meat preparation and packaging department, and heard Ray McCarroll, Food Mart's popular store manager, discuss weighing, cutting and packaging regulations designed for the benefit of the consumer.

Springfield Day Prep School Announces Summer Schedule

The Springfield Day Preparatory School for Boys, a non-profit school, will sponsor a summer school program for boys and girls beginning June 27 and running through August 5. The summer program will be for students in grades 3 through 12.

Special features of the summer school will include review subjects in languages and mathematics and this will be geared to students who are planning to take courses such as French I, Spanish I or Algebra I in September.

A Study Skills course will be available for junior high and high school students and a special handwriting and spelling course will be available in the elementary grades.

Other subjects will include all levels of French, Spanish, Latin, German, Russian, Algebra I, II,
III, Physics, English, Geometry,
Chemistry, Biology, General Science, U.S. History, World History, Typing and Briefhand.

The faculty will consist of the regular staff members at Springfield Prep School and other certified and experienced teachers from neighboring areas will supplement the staff. Classes will be kept to a maximum of 12 students and a supervised study hall will be available.

A special institution to concentrate on reading problems will be offered and it will be concerned with remedial, developmental and speed reading. Brochures are available from the school which is located at 122 Chestnut St., Springfield, Mass. The school is approved by the Springfield School System and it is chartered as a non-profit school by the State.

"Y" Announces Senior Counselors

Miss Cynthia Brown, director of Camp Mill Brook, the Agawam Community Y.M.C.A.'s Day Camp for boys and girls, announced recently the appointment of the boys senior counselors for the 1966 season.

Named to the senior counselor positions were: John Belovitz, a student at Western New England College; Dennis McGrevy, a graduate of Agawam High School this month; William Eggleston, who will be entering his senior year at the high school in the fall. All three have been related to YMCA programs in the past.

The Day Camp will operate this summer for four 2 week sessions June 27th to August 19th.
Each counselor in the program leads a group of 10 campers and plans with the campers a full round of activities including:
Athletics, Camp-crafts, Arts and Crafts, Nature, and Archery.
Swimming instruction is offered daily in the morning and a recreational swim is offered each day in the afternoon.

Registration is limited to 60 campers per session and Miss Brown reports that registration is over 25% as of the 1st of this month. Early registration is urged to guarantee a choice of sessions. Further information may be attained by calling the Y.M.C.A. office, 108 Perry Lane.

What Memorial Day Means To Me

By JUDITH KANA, Agawam Junior High,
 First Prize Essay Winner

Memorial Day is a time to mourn for the brave soldiers who with their lives, have bought and kept our dear freedom. Monday, May 30, 1966, will be noted everywhere by ceremonies, speeches, and parades honoring these brave men. Just as these events are taking place new names will join the list of people who have died in the service of their country.

The nation, since the Revolutionary War, has grown from the bravery of the minutemen. The United States of America actually had its beginning when "the embattled farmers fired the shot heard 'round the world." From that day thousands of Americans have fought for our country.

A total of 234,000 Americans lost their lives during the first World War. President Wilson spoke of this war as "the War to End War." In World War II 294,000 Americans lost their lives for our freedom. Once again most people thought all wars were ended, but, as before, more names were still to be added to the list who fought and died for the United States.

No simple summary of the statistics concerning the loss of property and lives can possibly show the great tragedy of Wars. Think of the untold cost in suffering, sorrow, broken homes, orphaned children, homeless people, concentration and prisoner of war camps, and the hardships of combat and military service. Must this be the cost of freedom?

The peace in 1945 was nothing but a pause, for five years later there were different battlefields and a different enemy. But the face of death was the same one known to those who met at Concord, Gettysburg, Normandy, Lexington, and Antietam.

After Korea, people again thought an end had come to war. The people of the West who fought and died proved to those of the East that there was no more profit to be gained in playing at freedom's end, that there was in dropping a bomb that would destroy all.

More names were still to come, for the causes of war never cease. Now the names come from new faraway battlefields with more stranger-sounding names: Bien Hoa, Da Nang, Hanoi. Names come slowly, but today there are more names than there were yesterday, and tomorrow will just bring more names.

Of all our defenders over the centuries many have paid the highest, fullest price of patriotic devotion. They have given their lives so that their families, their friends, fellow-citizens, and future generations of Americans, might live in safety, security and freedom at home.

Soldier's sacrifices in Viet Nam, or wherever else they may be made, are as much for America as the foreign land they are temporarily defending, because whenever freedom is endangered anywhere it is endangered everywhere.

Their endless courage is saving the still free parts of the world from communism, communism that would cover America too. But for the dedicated men who serve so faithfully for the United States this country has remained free.

It is too bad that so many people have to die. There must be some way to keep peace, some way no one has found yet. Until this method is found the list will continue to grow, but I believe that in future generations, this method will be found and peace will rule the earth.

The program will include sports, games, campcrafts, hikes, and arts and crafts.

The children will bring a lunch unless otherwise notified. A cold drink will be provided by the camp.

Registration fee is $9 per camper for the two-week session and transportation must be furnished by the campers. Enrollment will be limited and applications will be accepted on a first come first served basis.

For further information call 736-0285.

Annual YMCA . . .

etc., will be open to the residents of Agawam and their guests.

During the past three weeks volunteer groups have worked hard to make ready for the YMCA Open House. A new Aquatic Office was placed inside the pool enclosure, the pool was steam cleaned and newly painted, a canvas shelter is being erected, leaves raked, grass cut, furniture painted, etc.

Nick Zucco and Stella Gallani urge everyone to support the Agawam YMCA by attending the Barbecue on June 18. They point out that everyone is welcome and that tickets may be secured from any Committee Member or from the YMCA Office at 108 Perry Lane.

Gonyea, Pederzani Complete Basic

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (FHT-NC) — Navy Seaman Recruits Victor J. Gonyea, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor A. Gonyea of 60 Silver Lake Drive, and Donald R. Pederzani, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Pederzani of 187 Shoemaker Lane, both of Agawam, Mass., have completed seven weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of their naval service they studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those they will encounter on first or at first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian to sailor, they are taught and supervised by experienced Navy petty officers. They learned the basic skills of seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other basic subjects.

Upon completion of their recruit training, they are assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of their Navy classification tests, their own desires, and the needs of the Navy.

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By Bill Chiba

"If you boat this salmon Bill, I'll buy you a lobster dinner," shouted Joe Yerka, while he nervously slid his hand up and down the long handle of the fish net. This promise was made by Joe, representative of the Mooselook Wobbler Company of Sutton, Mass., the second day of fishing for salmon on Lake Winnepesaukee, Laconia, N. H.

The New England Outdoor Writer's were celebrating their annual Spring Safari at the lake, and hanging their hats at the plush Shangri-La Motel, Weirs beach. Joe and I had agreed to team up for the three day weekend, while Stan Berchulski, Springfield News Paper outdoor scribe, and Larry Fountain, free lance photographer did likewise.

Fish Same Locale

Joe agreed to fish the same locale that was so productive for Stan and I three years ago. As it worked out, the same area produced this year only with much larger fish. Joe drew first blood the first day with a nice hefty fish. He was trolling wire line 200 feet out with a small junior fluorescent wobbler. I had no wire with me, but did the next best thing. I put on a fly reel with leadcore line on my Harnel salmon rod and immediately went out 6 colors (thirty feet to a color) and tied on a similar mooselook copying what Joe had on his line. It worked, for I had a salmon on that was a twin to Joe's. I played it real cool . . . right up to the boat . . . Joe waited to net the fish, only it would have none of it. The lunger headed for the bottom, reversed itself and came up out of the water — the lure went one way and the fish another. Well, when you fish for landlock salmon, you very seldom boat more than 50 percent of the fish, for they are so fiery and loaded with inexhaustible stamina that the hooks usually pull out with the least little bit of slack line.

The second morning we were on the water by 5 a.m. and did not get a strike till 12 noon. This is amazing to say the least. We tried every color mooselook in Joe's collection, and it is a large one, to no avail. It was blasphemous on my part with Joe in the boat, but I tried every salmon fly in my collection including some tied up by Tony Godek, Ed Goyette, Vic Shibley, all of Feeding Hills with nil results. Finally, at 12 noon, I switched back to the mooselook, went out five colors, and started to catch salmon. I boated three in one hour, one sub legal and the other two 4½ and 5 pounds. Joe was fishing the same depth with the same lure and did not get a strike. Two variables were involved . . . he was using wire line while I had to use leadcore, and the second (I think this is what made the difference) I was using Stren leader material and Joe was not. I tried to get him to switch to the Stren, but he would not do so claiming that his leader was superb and should make no difference to the fish. I think the leader does, and have proved it to my satisfaction while fishing on the Miramichi River for Atlantic Salmon three years in succession.

The two salmon that I boated and brought to the motel were tops in size for the outdoor writers involved. That evening I was presented with a beautiful governor King Award for the largest salmon caught by a writer that week-end. The banquet was hosted by the Development and Economic Department of New Hampshire and the fare of succulent roast beef was enjoyed by the 54 writers and guests in attendance

John Brennan, Division of Economic Development, was in charge of the weekend and was assisted by Ted Vincent, Standard Times, and Henry Moore, Boston Herald. The boys are to be commended for the fine time that was had by all.

Boats were provided by Bob Ober (Lazy Bones), George Poire at Winnisquam, John Goodhue at Glendale, the N. H. Fish and Game Dept. (Dick Seamans), and three aluminum boats from Shangri-La.

Our thanks to Jack Kamman, Chief of Fish and Game, Dick Seamans, I&E Chief, and Brad Bryant, boat safety division of New Hampshire. These gentlemen were instrumental in seeing that the writers lacked for nothing.

Space Approval

Washington

The United States Senate took only minutes to give unanimous approval to a $5 billion-plus authorization for the nation's space program in the fiscal year which begins July 1.

It approved a total of $5,008,000,000 which was $21,235,850 more than voted by the House but $4 million less than President Johnson requested.

With a flourish, concert pianist Alfred Brendel completed the stirring closing passage of Mozart's Piano Concerto in C Major and rose to take his bow

But he couldn't stand. His coat tails were caught in the piano stool.

Watched by the Melbourne Symphony Orchestra, British conductor Sir Malcolm Sargent, and a packed concert audience, he wrenched, pulled, and tugged. But the tail held fast.

So with another flourish, the pianist slipped out of his coat and took his bow in his starched white shirt front.

The audience applauded both performances.

Agawam students have opened almost 1600 school savings accounts since Westfield Savings Bank assumed operation of the savings program at the invitation of the Agawam School Committee.

"This is an excellent response," said Harris J. Bond, assistant treasurer of the bank and manager of the West Springfield branch. "We are delighted that so many of the students are interested in thrift and what it can do to help them meet future goals."

Bond said a further advantage

Cloverleaf Square Dance June 4th

Presidents Robert and Dorothy Frenette of the Cloverleaf Square Dance Club, extend a cordial invitation to all persons interested in Western Style square dancing to attend the Cloverleaf Club Dance this Saturday, from 8 to 11 p.m. in Griswold Hall of the Feeding Hills Congregational Church.

An evening of fun is promised by Jack Mansfield, widely known caller in the Connecticut Valley area. A program of square and round dances is planned for the evening.

An attractive Cloverleaf Banner will be given to all Clubs with two or more dancing sets in attendance. Refreshments will be served.

of the Westfield Savings program is that students have the responsibility for the banking procedure, under the direction of their teachers.

Agawam bank day is held each Tuesday morning and the students need only to include their deposit and their passbook in a specially printed envelope provided by the bank. Basic information—such as name of the depositor, name of the school, classroom, and amount to be deposited—are printed on the envelope by the student.

Bond said that with the summer vacation fast approaching, students may be interested in knowing that they can continue to make savings deposits at the West Springfield branch of the bank during the summer, using their same passbooks.

"Many students have summer jobs," he said, "and their school savings account provides an excellent opportunity to build their balances during the vacation months."
